Description

Chassis no. 87199 Originally registered in Verona, Italian registered car since ever.

With its current owner since 2012.

It sports the most classic Ferrari color scheme of all: "Rosso Corsa"(racing red) over black leather interiors, with a red carpet and black soft top.

Entirely preserved car that has never been restored. It has period-correct Speedline Ferrari line alloy wheels.

Recently serviced, and the belts were replaced.

Designed by Leonardo Fioravanti of Pininfarina and produced at Carrozzeria Scaglietti in Modena. The "T" version (where T indicates the use of a transverse positioned transmission) marked the beginning of an important comeback for Ferrari, in terms of performance and reliability.

Equipped with a 3.4-liter V8 engine with a maximum output of 300 HP.

1017 specimens manufactured, including 379 built to USA specifications. Extremely fast and reliable, this is one of the best Ferraris of its period, and it has the added bonus of being suitable for use with the whole family.

Among the models most coveted by enthusiasts, as well as always much sought after by collectors. It should really be used and enjoyed, especially open. Indeed, with the top down the Mondial T's lines are even more strikingly beautiful. Currently one of the most interesting cars, still tends to be undervalued. A sought-after model by collectors.
