Description

The 512 TR was the last truly desirable Testarossa Ferrari in the eyes of most enthusiasts. The smoothness of the boxer 12 cylinder engine, combined with the seemingly endless supply of power, low centre of gravity and symphonic exhaust notes all resulted in a true driver's car, and a very desirable stallion from Ferrari's stables.

This well-preserved original example presents well in Ferrari's iconic Rosso Corsa. A European specification car, it has only had one previous owner and covered under 9,000 kilometers from new.
