Description

"The fifth generation, since its original introduction in 1967, of the Camaro was manufactured from 2010 to 2015. Production began on March 16th, 2009 after several years on hiatus since the previous generation's production ended in 2002. The Camaro was made available as a coupé in five different trim levels; the LS, 1LT, 2LT, 1SS, and 2SS. The SS with automatic transmission is powered by the 6.2 litre V8 engine called the GM L99 which produces 400hp. The L99 V8 engine, not to be confused with the earlier LT Series L99, uses active fuel management which enables the engine to run on only four cylinders during urban driving conditions, such as highway cruising, to improve fuel economy. This stunning and imposing Camaro SS was first registered in April 2010 and is specified in black on black. The car is supplied with fully independent four-wheel suspension system and four-piston Brembo calipers. Accompanying the car is the original service booklet that was supplied with the car when purchased and shipped to the UK, it also shows stamps from March 2012. Photographic records and detailed records for work from 2016 to 2019 are contained within the history file that also denotes a recent automatic transmission rebuild by Auto Gearbox Specialists of Hailsham, which was completed in February 2019 and is still under warranty. Documentation of the original bill of sale through to the current ownership is present, as is the UK V5C registration document, SVA/IVA certificate and current MoT test certificate valid until June 2020. This is a stunning example of the iconic American muscle car in fabulous order throughout and stunning value."
