Description

"The performance and comfort contained within Jaguar's XK8 has been carefully considered and the sales figures speak for themselves. Geoff Lawson's sleek design allows the occupants the ability to arrive in style whilst still enjoying Jaguar's trademark leather upholstery and burr walnut dash. The XK8 came with a brand new V8, four litre engine. The first, in fact, since the Daimler SP250, with a slightly more powerful and efficient 4.2 litre unit arriving in 2003 coupled to a six-speed automatic transmission. Adaptive suspension aided the driving experience as, indeed, did the light sensitive headlamps and automatic dipping rear view mirror.

This January 2004 model comes with the more desirable 4.2 litre engine and, with only, 63,525 under its belt, has plenty of love to give. Described by the vendor as presenting in very good condition throughout, in fact described as 10 out of 10 in all areas illustrates the attention this example has received over the years. Stored in garage at home and regularly serviced locally again underlines the confidence in the condition of this convertible XK8. Offered without reserve."
