Description

This BMW Alpina B12 5.7 (E30 M3) from 2000 is in a good driving condition. This is a very unique specimen. This Alpina B12 5.7 is based on the BMW 750i E38 and also one of the last Alpina models with a V12, which delivers around 385 hp in this car. In total there are only 202 pieces of this type made, of which 59 with a longer wheelbase where this is one. It concerns number 3 and is therefore very rare and unique. The car is a real collector's item and one that will increase in value. This is because this is one of the last Alpina models with a V12. The first admission to registration is 12-10-2000. The car is richly equipped with options. To get a good impression of the car we advise you to come to one of the viewing days.
