Description

This Volkswagen Beetle is in a moving condition. Both the interior and the exterior have some imperfections, but overall look neat. Technically, the car appears to be in good condition. Switching, steering and braking does this properly. It is equipped with a 1,600cc engine with a lot of power. The Dutch technical MOT inspection is valid until 19-03-2020. It concerns Beetle in a more luxurious version: it is equipped with a faster engine and front disc brakes. Partly because of this, this version is also called "Superbeetle". They also released a new front suspension with this model with MacPherson struts. This together with a shorter turning circle and an enlarged luggage space does justice to its nickname. The leather-leather interior is finished in red, which is a special combination with the white paint. A number of nice details are the original Volkswagen stickers, such as in the door style and the color number under the front cover. A nice car which can also be suitable for daily use. To get a good impression of the car we advise you to come to one of the viewing days.
