We'd love to spend the winter in these luxurious alpine chalets

Lead

Winter is approaching, fast, and if you'd like to spend Christmas and New Year's Eve in the snow, you should book a chalet sooner than later. Fortunately, the Classic Driver Market still has some magical mountain villas that are very much still available...

What could be nicer than returning to your preheated chalet after a long day on the slopes to cheer on the fireplace and admire the evening alpine glow with a glass of Lagrein wine from the cellar? And regardless of whether you prefer to spend the colder season in the Engadin, Kitzbühel, Chamonix or Aspen, the Classic Driver Market boasts some magnificent chalets in which you'd love to spend the entire winter.
