When it comes to the Milan-based fashion brand Larusmiani, the coming autumn/winter season is all about earthy tones and casual 1970s elegance. You can find the most beautiful pieces from the new collection in the Classic Driver Market...

At the Fuoriconcorso Monza at Milan's Villa Necchi Campiglio back in early September, we noticed the elegant ladies and gentlemen donning the new Larusmiani collection. Now the autumn/winter collection is available from the brand's boutique stores as well as in the Classic Driver Market. Who'd have thought the 1970s shades such as mustard yellow, ochre brown and chalk could look so contemporary and stylish in 2019?
