

CLASSIC DRIVER

Make a Bond fan's Christmas with this Daniel Craig-designed Aston DBS

19 October 2019 | Alex Easthope

The famous American luxury department store Neiman Marcus has released its hotly anticipated Christmas catalogue. The crowning 'fantasy' item in 2019 is a limited-edition James Bond-themed Aston Martin DBS Superleggera which was designed in collaboration with 007 himself...

Just seven lucky Neiman Marcus customers will be able to unwrap the 'inky blue' Aston Martin DBS designed in collaboration with Daniel Craig.

That's after they've each coughed up a princely 700,007 US dollars for the privilege. The extraordinary sum, which is well over twice the price of a 'regular' DBS, will also include a one-of-seven Omega Speedmaster 300M crafted entirely in platinum as well as two tickets to the premiere of the next James Bond film No Time to Die. Too much to swallow? You can find a plethora of more reasonably valued Aston Martin DBS Superleggeras listed for sale in the Classic Driver Market.

Photos: Neiman Marcus

---

<https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/make-a-bond-fans-christmas-daniel-craig-designed-aston-dbs>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.