Description

Probably the most famous bike produced by Walz Hardcore Cycles GmbH; Experts are aware that all bikes built until 2007 are 100% Marcus Walz bikes, since he sold the company in 2008; "Gulf" is the in 2004 built Le Mans in Gulf design by and with Marcus Walz; this bike was presented at the Bike Week 2004 in Las Vegas; during the shooting breaks of Oceans Eleven the bike was gazed by Brad Pitt (as can be seen from numerous photos on the internet); Brad Pitt was so fascinated by the bike that he subsequently commissioned Marcus Walz to make a bike in Gulf design, including some minor changes; This "reproduction" commissioned by Brad Pitt was stolen in 2014 at Walz Hardcore Cycles Germany GmbH shop; so it is an absolutely unique piece; who knows the history of this bike knows that there are many "reproductions", but the bike here offered is the original, which was presented to Brad Pitt in 2004 in Las Vegas; experts know that all bikes built until 2007 are 100% Marcus Walz bikes (founder of the company)
