The period Aston Martin brochure describes it very well:

The V8 Volante is a unique combination of sportscar performance and handling, limousine luxury and the sort of open air motoring which has excited and thrilled drivers for decades.

This V8 Volante is one of the sought-after, rare (only 216 examples produced) LHD, automatic and carburettor-version examples.

Even better; this V8 Volante is an ultra sound low milage example (sold new in California). Hundreds of photos convincingly describe the comprehensive quality restoration (body, chassis and mechanics) executed by a Swiss specialist, who also tuned this Aston Martin V8 back to European specifications.

The result in its new Royal Blue livery with the very attractive, slightly patinated, original red leather upholstery, can only be described as stunning.

Our Brussels customer describes his sensations when driving the Aston Martin as: trop mega super cool! Convincing, isn't it?
