Description

The Mercedes-Benz W107 series was produced from 1971 to 1989 and served as the successor to the W113 (Pagoda). At the end of 1985 the 300SL (BM107.041) came on the market to replace the 280 model. A total of 13742 copies of this type were built. This specimen was first registered in 1985 (EU) and is therefore one of the first models produced in the series. The car has a Dutch registration and in 32 years the car has driven only 152,000 km. The condition of the car is still beautiful. The paintwork is very beautiful and executed in its original color "Artikweiss (147G)". This in combination with the black leather interior gives the car an elegant appearance. The interior makes a well-cared for appearance and as you would expect from a Mercedes, everything functions properly. The automatic gearbox shifts very smoothly, the engine runs great, the car is really a joy to drive and drive. Equipped with various options such as electric mirrors and windows, alloy wheels and a Becker Europe with cassette. To get a good impression of the car we advise you to come to one of the viewing days.
