Description

As Formula 1 completes seven decades of racing, this range of 8 special artworks has each one dedicated to a decade of racing from the 1950s to the present day, plus an additional one looking to the future of the sport. At the turn of the new millennium, the choice for the car and team had to be the most successful driver of all time, Michael Schumacher and his seven world championship crowns in the F2002 for the 2000s. Scuderia Ferrari is the only team to have taken part in the series every year since 1950 to the present day. It's 2002 challenger, the F2002 is one of the most successful cars in the history of Formula 1 - with a final hit rate of 15 wins from 17 race starts.
