

CLASSIC DRIVER

You'll want to belong to this particular owners' club

Lead

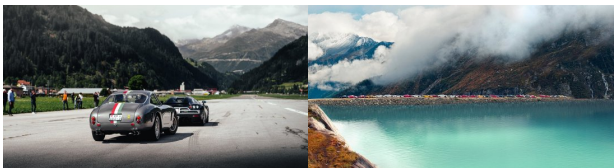

It might surprise you to learn that there are in fact top-tier collectors who actually use their precious cars and don't just keep them tucked away in dehumidified garages, hidden from prying eyes. Nowhere is this more evident than during the intimate events organised by the Supercar Owners Circle...

So much more than a club

Founded in Switzerland, the Supercar Owners Circle is an exclusive club which gathers collectors and their astonishing blue-chip classics and contemporary hypercars in interesting locations predominantly across Europe. This is isn't your average car club, however. To give you an idea of the calibre, participating cars in the last few Supercar Owners Circle gatherings included multiple Ferrari 250 GT 'Short Wheelbase' Competiziones, road-going GT1 unicorns from the 1990s including a Porsche 911 GT1 and a Mercedes-Benz CLK GTR, and more modern hypercars than you could shake a stick at.

Get out and Gstaad

The network connected by the club really is as impressive as it is passionate about using these ultra-significant cars exactly as they were intended. Furthermore, it also serves as a support system for supercar owners, whether they're looking for storage solutions, access to manufacturers or transportation options. The next rendezvous is due to take place in the glamorous alpine town of Gstaad in Switzerland on 4-5 September and promises to be yet another unforgettable weekend of automotive fun and frivolity.

Photos courtesy of Supercar Owners Circle © 2020

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/youll-want-belong-particular-owners-club>
© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.