Description

- Very rare version, even more so in Italy, of the 2hp van for transporting goods and passengers. Single-owner until found by current collector. The car was used for travelling to the sea and for small services, presumably it has only 60,000km on the clock, in condition to be restored, equipped with number plates and documents of the time.
- Car left in the workshop in the last 10 years and never restored, complete in all its parts, with some spare parts of the body, especially a set of doors. Original brick red colour.
- Complete mechanics in the main parts, engine not blocked.
- The 2CV in the AZU version extremely rare today, especially in this quot Week-end quot preparation for the transport of 4 passengers. The rear compartment has the special feature of 3 windows on each side and a roof ventilation hatch, a peculiarity of this car for the mixed transport of goods and people. Ready for total restoration, complete, with documents in order and extremely sought after by 2CV brand collectors. Car visible by appointment in Abruzzo, where it will be collected.
