Rare on our roads

Interesting engine

French collection title

This Honda S800 was put into service on March 14th, 1968. It is today in a beautiful state of presentation. Its paint looks good and the whole body is very healthy. The interior is in good original condition, only a few cigarette burns are to be noted on the carpet around the gear lever. The car has rare Delta Mics rims. A road test showed us that the engine and gearbox were working properly. The stainless steel exhaust gives it a most pleasant sound. However, the starter motor requires service, as does the cooling system showing slight leaks. Finally, the front axle requires repair, this testifying to a significant play that does not allow obtaining a technical control. It is, however, an excellent automobile, a real little sports car offering a rare driving pleasure, accessible within the limit of the authorized speeds on our roads!
