Rare, cool, amazing colour schemes and all priced under £100,000, the Sakura World auction offers you the affordable collectible that you can park in your living room.

Think about how much a Rothmans liveried car would cost you to invest in? A lot, and that's if you can find one! With an estimate from just £11,000, the 1992 Honda NSR250R is surely the perfect piece of kinetic art for the living room and yet that 2-stroke engine is just waiting to scream right round to its crazy redline. The 80's and 90's sports bike market is a vibrant and exciting arena to start discovering right now and these bikes are already becoming highly collectible.
