Description

VIN No. ZAR93000002108516

Engine Type: 67204

Registered in 1997, with original number plates and logbook. The first owner was the "Dorado Centro Internazionale Guida Sicura" (Dorado International Centre for Safe Driving), the famous school created by the legendary former racing driver Andrea de Adamich in collaboration with Alfa Romeo. Red without interior trim, equipped with roll bar, sports steering wheel, sports seats with four-point belts and fire extinguisher. The bodywork is in excellent condition and has just been repolished. The car comes with fibreglass bonnet and tailgate, in addition to the originals.

Group N preparation, the current owner reports that the processing of the cylinder head was immediately carried out on the 146, the remapping of the ECU, and that the car was equipped with sports exhaust and trim, in addition to the battery switch and the possibility of disconnecting the ABS. The engine runs perfectly, just over 9,400 km have been travelled, but a general check-up of the mechanics is still recommended before using it on the track. MOT no longer valid.

The car has an interesting history and is well preserved, probably used by the drivers' school given the preparation. The ideal solution for having fun at rallies and track days.

The car must be collected from the province of Alessandria.
