

CLASSIC DRIVER

Thanks to Connolly, hitting the road has never looked that good

Lead

Classy, contemporary – and sophisticatedly understated: Connolly's latest collection of driving essentials will make you look ace when you hit the road this summer.

Looking out of the Classic Driver office window I can see something strange in the sky, there's a yellow thing and some blue. Finally, after what feels like the longest winter on record, the temperatures are rising and it's time to consider your summer wardrobe for the busy season of motoring events, that are coming up fast. London-based Connolly and the automobile go back over 140 years, but their new Spring/Summer collection further marks them out as an exciting fashion brand. Gentle shades of blue, brown and pink mix with exquisite materials such as cashmere, silk and suede in this fresh and light collection that will keep you cool as the temperatures rise. You can purchase the full range of clothing in the Classic Driver Shop.
