Description

Celebrating Connolly's collaboration with 007 and No Time To Die, the collection includes a series of timeless leather pieces created in the same Connolly Vaumol leather that has graced the interior of James Bond's iconic Aston Martin DB5 since Goldfinger in 1964. The iconic Connolly circuit pouch, inspired by racing's checkered flag, has been reimaged for Bond. Designed to carry your travel essentials, this zipped piece will take you from glove box to lunch and onwards. The 007 Circuit Pouch is crafted in a chequered pattern of Connolly Vaumol grey leather and smooth black leather, with leather lining, piping and zip closure. The 007 x Connolly silver foil hallmark gives a subtle nod to the original DB5 registration plate.

About Connolly Vaumol leather: Connolly Vaumol leather has been used through history due to its unique patina, aroma and natural grain. From the early days of the motor industry, the leather has covered the interiors of all the Grand Marques, including Rolls Royce, Bentley, Ferrari, Aston Martin and Jaguar. Iconic luxury ocean liners and public buildings around the world, including London's House of Lords and House of Commons, have also used Connolly Vaumol for their interiors because of its distinctive quality.
