Description

There are many Porsche 911 on the market, but only very few are still in as new condition. We have now such a beautiful example in stock, with only 55.135 documented km on the clocks and in absolute showroom condition. Delivered new in January 1987 by Mahag Sportwagen-Zentrum GmbH in München (now Porsche Zentrum München), and finished in Grand Prix Weiss with a Marine Blue leather/cloth interior with Porsche lettering. The car had some interesting options : electrical sunroof, 8-way electrical seats, front and rear spoiler, sports seats and Blaupunkt Bremen radio. The proud new owner also had factory turbo wheels fitted by the dealer before delivery, including the necessary (but invisible) adaptations to the body. These lovely Fuchs wheels fit the car perfectly, and give it a stance few other 911's can match.

In 2014, the car was sold to a French collector with only 52.257 km, and kept in beautiful condition in his private collection in Paris. The car shows now 55.135 km, and I have never seen a Porsche 911 from this model year in such a perfect and almost new condition. Everything works as it should, the engine runs very sweet and the G50 gearbox is a pleasure to use. The interior in the rare "Porsche-Schriftzug" cloth and leather looks like new, and the Grand Prix Weiss paint is perfect and for 80% first paint. The car looks gorgeous and purposeful with the discreet but impressive 911 Turbo wheels, which are perfectly integrated in the standard narrow 911 body.

This car is a proper collector's car, which should be cherished by its next owner and kept in this excellent original condition. This glorious 911 is the first time on the market, and a car for the true connoisseur. Definitely a unique chance and way above the usual average Porsche 911 quality you can find in dozens on the internet. Don't hesitate and book a visit if you look for one of the best Porsches 911 with G50 gearbox.
