Description

-British Racing Green with Green Suede leather interior, Green Carpeting, Documented restoration, Limited mileage since restoration, 3.4 Liter 6-cylinder engine, 4-speed manual gearbox.

This XK-120 was built in March of 1952. While early history is unknown, this XK-120 was restored and cared for in The Netherlands and while in collector ownership. It is superb and well-maintained since as represented by its condition today. In 2010, this XK-120 was purchased by a American collector and relocated to Amelia Island, Florida.

With limited mileage since restoration, this XK-120 has seen excellent care regardless of use. On a recent road test, we can attest to its running condition being as good as its cosmetic condition.

One of the most iconic sports cars of the 1950s, this XK-120 represents the very best in build quality and craftsmanship throughout. A wonderful addition for to any collections or enthusiast garage alike. It is at home for weekend cruising-road use and at the same time eligible for some of the world's most prestigious vintage road rallies including the Mille Miglia. This Jag is excellent in every way, inspections are welcomed.
