Description

- Registered as a one-off in Milan in 1973 and registered to Zagato Automobili. Used by the Zagato family for many years. Original documents.
- The Zele was presented at the Turin Motor Show in 1972 as an example of an urban car with zero environmental impact. Just 2.13 metres long, it weighed around 500 kg with a range of 70 kilometres (very impressive for the period).
- Fibreglass bodywork in excellent condition, very fresh in its original blue colour, the only example in this colour. Original interior in perfect condition.
- Equipped with battery charger and double keys. It has maintenance documents and invoices of servicing carried out over the years.
- The forerunner of all electric city cars, with a prestigious design, it proposed a solution to today's much-discussed environmental problems 40 years in advance.
- A unique opportunity to acquire a piece of automobile history.
