Description

- Registered in Pavia in 1983, it now has white number plates from the province of Milan. Extremely original car with logbook and service book, double keys and information booklet on the volumetric compressor.
- Silver with blue fabric interior, bodywork restored a few years ago, and original interior in excellent condition.
- Complete and original mechanics, thanks to the volumetric compressor the power rises to 136 hp.
- The Volumex was the swan song of the Beta Coupé, which was taken off the market in the autumn of 1984. It was easily recognisable thanks to a few aesthetic details such as the VX badge on the grille, the rear spoiler and a bulge on the bonnet. This is a true collector's version of the brand and an extremely rare find for sale, especially in this condition.
