In these cold months you'll no doubt have the heated steering wheel on while you're in your modern daily driver. But for those spur of the moment drives in your classic, gloves are an essential item. Steering feel is everything, so thick gloves will simply not do, and of course style and quality is paramount.

Thankfully Café Leather have joined the Classic Driver Shop offering their fine handcrafted driving gloves and holdalls. Made in the small Spanish town of Ubrique, by some of the country's finest leather workers, these items fit our Classic Driver beliefs of simple, timeless and authentic products.
