Buy Ferrari's fantastic four supercars in one go at Artcurial's Paris sale

Lead

At the upcoming Rétromobile sale on March 18-19 in Paris Artcurial will sell a collection of low-mileage Ferraris from the estate of Monegasque lawyer, car collector and Maranello power shopper Maître Etienne Léandri.

The exceptional stable of prancing horses includes not one, but all four of Ferrari's modern supercars – the F40, F50, Enzo and LaFerrari. All are painted in Rosso Corsa, all display a low or delivery mileage. The 1989 Ferrari F40 is estimated to fetch 1,3m – 1,6m euros while Artcurial expects the 1996 Ferrari F50 to cross the block for 2,7 – 3,2m euros, a price range in line with recent auction results. Both, the 2003 Ferrari Enzo and the 2013 Ferrari LaFerrari, have an estimate of 2,2m – 2,8m euros. So which of the four mythical Maranello unicorns would you pick?
