Quit your job and hit the road with this adventure-ready Landy Defender

Jan Baedeker

You're tired of staring at a screen for eight hours a day before spending your evening, well, doing exactly the same? Behold, as we present you the perfect getaway car that might free you from the shackles of modern civilization for good.

Equipped with a roof tent and painted in the iconic shade of the Camel Trophy, this well-used 2000 Land Rover Defender 90 that is currently for sale with Top Marques Deluxe Cars in Vicenza, Italy is the perfect car to hit the road and never come back. Ok, or at least not until Sunday evening – because the WIFI at home is just so much better for streaming “House of the Dragon” than the patchy internet in the alps.
