Discover 13 of the greatest restomods from around the world in Waft’s latest publication. Available in two variants and loaded with incredible stories and imagery, we’re pleased to announce ‘Restomods’ is now in the CD Shop!

It’s now hard to imagine an automotive world without restomods. Whether it’s the operatic howl of a 911 that’s been reimagined by Singer, or the rejuvenated interior on a once-utilitarian Defender, car lovers can’t seem to get enough of the combination of modern-day tech with old-school styling.

The new trend has now been documented with the style and detail they deserve in Waft’s latest publication: ‘Restomods’. Focused on 13 unique examples of restomodding from around the world, the book showcases not just the cars themselves, but also the people behind the builds.

Often created on a limitless budget by incredibly passionate individuals, the aim of a restomod is to let creativity and innovation run riot, with classics like the Citroen SM and Mercedes SL Pagoda receiving some essential modern-day accessories and upgrades.

The book is available in two variants, one of which is a limited-edition version with 250 individually-numbered copies. Buying this limited edition must-have will also bag you 13 gorgeous 50 x 70 cm art prints, all printed on luxury paper that showcases the restomods featured within the book in their full glory. Alongside the limited edition copy, Restomods is also available in a regular but also fantastic looking hardback version.

We are delighted to have both versions of the book available in our CD Shop, making for the perfect festive gift for a car-loving book reader!
