Floyd loves it when a plan comes together!

Lead

Floyd and their trademark Travel Cases on Wheels have been inspired by skateboard culture and the Californian way of life. So it felt like a match made in Hollywood when Floyd recently joined forces with another California institution – the A-Team!

It's the 1980s and you live in California where you spend your time working on your tan, letting your hair grow and surfing sidewalks with your skateboard. But one day your mojo is gone – and you desperately need it back. Luckily you remember: if you have a problem, if no one else can help, and if you can find them, maybe you can hire... The A-Team. And that's exactly what you do. Thankfully, America's finest soldiers of fortune know exactly how to get your lucky charm back and after some wild car chases, helicopter stunts and explosions, the A Team van stops at your door to return your beloved Floyd Travel Case on Wheels. Don't you love it when a plan comes together?

Do it like the A-Team and keep rolling with Floyd's funkier travel cases and weekenders from the CD Shop.
