Unimatic go Olive with their latest collection of inspired watches

Lead
Paying homage to the timeless military-style wristwatches of the 1940s, Unimatic delves deeper into their Italian heritage with their latest line of limited-edition watches. Which one will you be choosing?

Known as the Series 8 Olive Drab, Unimatic's brand new capsule collection looked further than materials or history as a way of inspiration, and instead, drew inspiration from the timeless elegance associated with Tuscany. There are four stunning options to choose from, known as Modello Uno, Due, Tre and Quattro, all finished in a new Olive Drab colorway, incorporating subtle golden details into the design to further enhance the look of the four timepieces.

Modello Uno, Due and Quattro are fitted with a Swiss-made automatic calibre Sellita SW200-1 B, while Modello Tre gets revamped with a completely new to Unimatic watchface - removing the 24-hour subdial and decorating the minute subdial with concentric circles, giving the watch a cleaner look.

With gold metallic brushed details throughout each version of the watches, Unimatic have created a collection of style, yet perfectly usable and durable watches, all with anti-reflective sapphire crystal, providing the best performance in every light condition.

Fitted with an olive drab two-piece strap with stainless steel brushed hardware signed Unimatic and an extra olive drab seatbelt NATO strap, with each version being limited to just 400 pieces. Be sure to grab yours now from the CD Shop!
