We can't stop looking at this green-over-tan Ferrari F355

Lead

There is something irresistibly attractive about dark green Ferraris from the 1990s – and this striking F355 in Verde Silverstone Metallic over a Cognac tan interior is the most desirable V8 Berlinetta we have seen in a while.

Coming up for sale with Worldwide Auctioneers on 2 September in Auburn, Alabama, this early 'Euro Spec' example of the Ferrari F355 is equipped with the 381-HP 2.7 Motronic engine and a six-speed manual gearbox. For us, the Pininfarina-designed Berlinetta ranks among the most elegant and timeless V8 sports cars ever made in Maranello – especially if painted in silver, dark blue or a British shade of Green.

And don't you think that this 1994 Berlinetta in Verde Silverstone Metallic over a Cognac tan interior just looks absolutely stunning? First ordered to Belgium, the car still sports its original paint, while the engine has been serviced and Worldwide Auctioneers presents the car as ready-to-drive with a little over 46.000 kilometres on the clock. So don't think too long and make your bid before we do!
